BEAUTY.

Beautiful faces, they that wear
The light of a pleasant smile there,
It matters not if it's fair.

Beautiful hands, we they need do
The work of the noble and true,
Buy for them the long day through.

Beautiful feet are they that go
To light another's way,
Through the heat or winter's snow.

Beautiful children, bright or poor,
Who walk the pathway sweet and pure
That lead to the mansions strong and sure.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Nashville Banner is the oldest established Tennessee newspaper in existence.

The Comanche Indians don't like the negro troops employed on the Texas frontier. They have no fancy for the woolly scalps.

Senator Ross tried his hand at typesetting, last week, on the Topeka (Kans.) Record, his old paper, all the compositions having struck.

The most popular song is that published by a Chicago music dealer—"Father Will Settle the Bill." All the young ladies of Chicago sing it.

The class just entered at Yale is the largest ever admitted (numbering nearly two hundred,) and contains the first colored student that ever presented himself for admission.

The American Colonization Society will send the Golconde to Liberia on Nov. 1, with 200 emigrants from the Southern States, principally from North Carolina.

The City Council of Taunton, Mass., have authorized the City Marshal to arrest all parties guilty of using profane language in the public streets of that city.

Newspaper postage to Great Britain, two cents; Germany, three cents; France, two cents; Spain, six cents; Italy, four cents; Cuba, two cents; Mexico, two cents; Brazil, two cents.

As flowers never put on their best clothes for Sunday, but wear their spottless raiment and exhale their odor every day, so let your Christian life, free from stain, ever give forth the fragrance of the love of God.

Philosophy when directed by wisdom is noble and elevating in its principles; but when guided by skepticism or depending upon a rule of moral action, it becomes a "blind leader of the blind."

Truth and manliness are two qualities that will carry you through the world much better than policy, tact or anything else devised to conceal or mystify deviations from the straight line.

Avarice in old age, says Cicero, is foolish, for what can be more absurd than for us to increase our provisions for the road, the nearer we approach our journey's end.

A newly discovered Chinese poem, "Li Sao," written three hundred years before Christ, is said to prove that the existence of America was known to the Chinese at that time.

A California woman took a big rattlesnake out of her baby's cradle with two canes, and dropped him into a kettle of boiling water, which took the bite out of him.

The drouth in Louisiana ended about ten days ago, since which time it has continued to rain in torrents. A swell in the Mississippi is causing a good deal of uneasiness. The levees are in danger.

A rural English woman had the right idea when, finding herself unable to whip her husband, she shouted to her son, who was up stairs, in reply: "Bill! come down stairs and lick thy father, or else he'll be thy master of the whole house."

Joseph and S. B. Young, brothers of Brigham, are visiting old friends in Seneca Falls and Waterloo, New York. The Young family formerly lived in Cayuga county, and Brigham once tended a saw mill in Port Byron.

Some one, sometime ago, seeing two or three eminent lawyers gathered together on a spot supposed to be likely to be chosen as the site of the new law courts, said that they had met there "to view the ground where they must shortly be too much spacing lie."

A street conjurer complained the other day that he could not throw the knives and balls about, because he did not feel in the vein. "In what vein?" asked a by-stander, weakly. "The jugular vein, of course, stupid." The jugular vein, of course, stupid.

A man passed through Council Bluff's, Iowa, a day or two ago, on his return to Missouri, after having tried to live in Minnesota. "I don't like it up there," he said. "Have been months of winter, and the rest of the time it's confounded late in the fall."

Robinson met Smith as he was going on toward St. Louis, Missouri, and asked: "What way, way, Smith? up or down?" "That depends upon circumstances," replied the latter. "If I get a berth over the boiler, I shall probably go up; if in the cabin, down."

Among the historical facts connected with Verdun, it is narrated that during the wars of the French revolution fifteen girls of that town, all under fifteen years of age, were sent to the guillotine for having danced at a ball given by Prussian officers.

Wendell Phillips announces as his lecture subjects for the coming season: "The Lost Arts," Daniel O'Connell, "Street Life in Europe," "Labor, Temperance and Women," and another political lecture on the times, title not yet named.

The French vessel of war Reine Hortense has an apparatus on board for producing electric light so strong that persons are compelled to stand at a distance of four miles. It is intended to show an enemy's ship and at the same to dazzle the eyes of her crew.

The press of advertising patronage has compelled Mr. Childs to enlarge the Philadelphia Ledger; and to "remove the pressure," as J. N. said, "the additional yearly expense for white paper alone will amount to $20,000."

The oldest house in Newport, R. I., was sold, a few days since, for $2,500. It was used in Revolutionary times as barracks by the British troops, and has been owned in the Stanhope family for over a century.

The late James B. Taylor, of New York, made $10,000,000 before his death, leaving about $3,000,000 and considerable real estate to his wife. He died intestate, so that it was effectively that it was not found until several weeks after his death. It was discovered Friday, in an old book in his library.

A Springfield man who has been visiting in the eastern part of Berkshire, Mass., reports a pastor who rings the bell to call the people to service, pitches the tune and helps sing; and, the story goes, that in addition to preaching to the living, he stands ready to dig the graves of those who die, and all for a salary of $700.

The very latest thing in advertising is a lady who, through the newspapers, seeks for employment as an "ornamental guest." She will wait at dinner and evening parties, or give songs with piano, and, in addition to the entertainment of guests, and she will do everything in the highest style of the art—only she demands that a handsome compensation be made.

Lorillard's Yacht Club Smoking Cigarettes.

Persons of sedentary occupations are well aware of the injurious after-effects resulting from smoking tobacco. It is much lighter in weight than common tobacco, and is as long as other kinds. It does not clog the pipe.

LORILLARD'S EUREKA Snuffing has become so popular, that many imitations are worth nothing. It is the finest bright tobacco snuff, being the best in the world, which is extracted by a patent process, does not contain any weak constituents.

Persons of sedentary occupations are well aware of the injurious after-effects resulting from smoking tobacco.

In addition to the above, we have many favorite brands of tobacco, including all the best cigar, cigarette, pipe, smoking, discounts, terms &c., with a full stock.
